

Marc Yahnian, general contractor

Marc Yahnian is a general contractor and construction manager specializing in commercial, industrial and multifamily apartment construction. To fully understand and experience how he works, You have to know who we are from the ground up. Along with 25 years of building experience, we are a Team oriented company that knows team work, integrity, dedication and Experience lead to successful projects each time.

Marc Yahnian takes pride in his work and does everything to maintain quality and efficiency with all reports, as well as on the project sites. His delivers a quality product every time, with an emphasis on precision and communication. He Makes no excuses, he delivers the product you asked for.

Marc Yahnian worked his way up the ladder from laborer to Superintendent to Project Manager, then to Construction Manager. During this time, he estimated, ran budget numbers for Developers, oversaw multiple projects and then decided to open Critical Point Construction, Inc.

Marc Yahnian has spent years working with public works projects, which taught him to estimate in hard numbers. This ability alone is the type of protection all owners and developers are looking for. His experience in the construction industry has allowed him to handle the most complex of problems. To date he has saved owners hundreds of thousands of dollars by delivering on time and on or under budget.

His commitment to excellence and superior service will not be surpassed. Marc and his management team are here to provide their customers protection, profit and most importantly, peace of mind.

Education

- BS Degree in Construction Management; California State University, Chico. (June 1989)
- Certificate of Achievement in Construction Estimation (all trades).
- College of the Sequoias General Education.

Licenses and Associations

- Licensed General Contractor Class B.
- OSHA 10 and 30 hour Course.

